Therefore, arrangements are to be made at least one year in advance and before any social plans are finalized.

Though immediate preparation is given to children before receiving these sacraments, it is expected that children receive a Christian education within their family life, through formal religious education classes, and by attending Sunday worship services.

The Solemnity of the Most Holy Trinity June 11, 2017

God so loved the world that he gave his only Son

TODAY'S READINGS

First Reading- The Lord, merciful and gracious, rich in kindness and faithfulness.

Second Reading- Brothers and sisters, rejoice. Live with one another in peace, and the God of peace will be with you.

Gospel- God did not send the Son to condemn the world, but to give it abundant life.

THREE IN ONE

Trinity Sunday is one of the few feasts that celebrates a reality and belief of the Church, rather than an event or person. Today we honor the eternal God: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Essentially, we believe that God is one being yet three distinct persons. Most people have a hard time wrapping their minds around this doctrine. Don't let the word "person" fool you. Person here means "that which stands on its own," or "individual reality," and does not mean the persons of the Trinity are like three human persons. How can the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit be distinct from one another yet completely united? The Trinity could be compared to ice, steam, and water. Jesus was solid, like ice: he became fully human so we could see him in our world. The Holy Spirit, like steam, is something that cannot be seen, but has great power. The Father is like water, without which there would be neither steam nor ice. However, all of these explanations fall short. The Trinity is a mystery but by the word "mystery," the Church does not mean a riddle to be solved, but a reality beyond our human ability to grasp. Ultimately, it is a truth we can only begin to know through worship, symbol, and faith.

There is a story about a man who was afraid of death. He spent a long period in prayer to please God. Then God appeared before him in a dream and asked his wish. He prayed to deliver him from death. God answered that death was inevitable for man. He then requested God to give him a warning before his death. God agreed. Overjoyed, he started to lead a life of leisure and sinful pleasures, hoping to turn to God as soon as God issued his warning. Over time, his hair became grey, skin got wrinkled and his health deteriorated. Still he continued his sinful ways. Finally at the moment of death, he had a vision of God, ready to judge his deeds. The man complained, "Why didn't you warn me earlier?" God replied, "I gave you a series of warnings - your greying hair, wrinkling skin and failing health were your warning signals. But you ignored the warnings. Now you have to meet your fate."

Death often appears unexpectedly. At every moment of life, we must be prepared and be ready to meet and greet death as a friend. *****
