— Psalm 116:13*

Second Reading - Christ is the mediator of a new covenant.

Third Reading - This is my body. This is my blood of the covenant.

THE GREATEST GIFT

Today is Corpus Christi, the feast of the Eucharist. The feast of Corpus Christi was established in the thirteenth century and is celebrated throughout the Catholic Church today. Saint Thomas Aquinas, the great theologian and doctor of the Church, is given credit for many of the customs and hymns associated with Corpus Christi. In some ways every Sunday is a feast of the Eucharist. As early as the fourth century, Saint Cyril of Jerusalem instructed communicants: "Do not come forward with the palms of the hands outstretched nor with fingers apart, but making the left hand a throne for the right since this hand is about to receive the King. Making the palm hollow, receive the Body of Christ, adding Amen." When we participate in the Mass and receive Communion we are honoring and celebrating the precious gift of the Lord's own Body and Blood. Communion is a fulfillment of Christ's promise to be always with us. Yet, by the Middle Ages the laity rarely received Communion. What became all important was to "see God" as the priest raised the consecrated host and chalice. So it remained, until Saint Pius X (1855–1914) returned us to the earlier tradition by advocating frequent Communion for the laity. In the last century attention to Eucharistic devotions declined, while more people received frequent Communion. Recent efforts to revitalize adoration of Jesus in the Eucharist, through Perpetual Adoration, Corpus Christi celebrations, and Eucharistic Congresses have brought us back into balance. And whether we receive Jesus or adore him in the reserved sacrament, he always requires a response from us. At the end of every Mass we are sent forth to love and serve the Lord. He gives us his very self—the greatest gift of all—so that we can go into the world and give in return.

Pope's Universal Intention:

The Church of the Holy Trinity, Bridgewater will be holding a new Bereavement session starting Monday, June 18th.

The Bereavement Ministry strives to bring consolation and peer support to those who grieve the loss of a loved one. Informal small group gatherings are facilitated by caring parishioners. Sharing thoughts, feelings, and emotions in the atmosphere of our faith with others who are also going through at personal loss can often bring some peace and acceptance, when understanding that these experiences are normal. Knowing that we are not alone may give some strength and consolation.

A nine-week session will begin Monday, June 18th from 6:30pm till 8:00pm. No fee, but registration is required. Contact Deacon John Phalen 908-500-2050
