First Reading - The Lord said to Elijah: "Stand on the mountain; the Lord will be passing by".

Second Reading - To the Israelites belong the covenants, the law, and the patriarchs; and from them comes the Christ.

Gospel - As Jesus walked on the sea, the disciples were terrified.

Reflecting on God's Word

This Sunday's Gospel features Jesus picking his way to a boat of disciples through a storm of windy darkness. over a sea of nighttime waves. At three in the morning, he finds them being tossed about in their own storm of windy fear. Peter, calls out across the tumult, "Lord, if it is really you, tell me to come to you across the water." So Jesus calls back and says, "Come."

That is when Peter must decide if he will step off the platform and into the roller coaster, or if he will play it safe. Such is the story of all of our lives when we must choose between a life of apparent security and the real life that is always revealed through risk and trust. Such choices may arise when we face the prospect of job loss or spouse loss or health loss or even what may appear to be loss of faith. At these times, not to step out of the boat and into the swirling storm, not to risk all for the sake of all is to lose all. On the other hand, to step out, even though it be with great fear, is to meet our saving God.

As Catholics, we have an obligation to consider public policy issues in light of the Gospel and the moral and social teaching of the Church. To provide the faithful of the Diocese of Metuchen with information and resources about issues affecting public policy, the diocese has launched a new webpage: <https://diometuchen.org/issues-and-action>. There you can sign up to receive action alerts directly from the diocese, or sign up to receive alerts directly from the New Jersey Catholic Conference and the USCCB.
