Reflecting on God's Word

These two stories are quite touching, perhaps because they involve so much touching—forbidden touching, as a matter of fact. The father falls at Jesus' feet and begs Jesus to help his dying daughter: "Come lay your hands on her that she may get well and live". Only touching her will do.

Then as Jesus is passing through the crowd, a woman suddenly appears on the scene, reaching out to Jesus and saying to herself: "If I but touch his clothes, I shall be cured". Jesus knows immediately that he's been touched. It is important to remember that because the woman was bleeding, a condition that made her "unclean" according to the law of Moses, her touch would have made Jesus unclean. However, her touching Jesus has the opposite effect: the bleeding stops and she is made clean once again.

When word comes that the little girl is dead, Jesus goes in and takes the child by the hand and says, "Little girl, I say to you, arise!". She does arise and he tells them to bring her some food. Again, touching her would have made Jesus unclean, but instead his touch cleanses her of death's hold.

Two desperate people—a dying girl and a bleeding woman. Jesus touches them and they both touch him—the woman through her own faith, the little girl through the faith of her father. It seems that healing depends on a flow between healer and the one being healed. The great news is that God allows a proxy.
